DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 22-27 and 31-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Reichel et al (US 2005/0166786).

Reichel et al discloses a track system for a rail vehicle comprised of a carrier defining a track plate 11 and connecting elements 12 extending transversely from the underside of the track plate 11. The carrier is supported on a bed 1. A compensation sleeper 28 is positioned between the bed 1 and the carrier 10. The compensation sleeper 28 is connected to the bed by means of a grout 20 and adjustable spindles 16. Reinforcement bars 29 connect the carrier 10 with the compensation sleeper. The adjustable spindles can be moved to allow for a desired spatial positioning of the carrier and the compensation sleeper relative to the bed. Both the compensation sleeper and the carrier are constructed of precast concrete and mounted in place on the bed and secured thereto.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 28-30 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
